Volume 22 Issue 10

From the Pastor's Pen

My friends in Christ,

The Westminster Confession of Faith, one of the three statements of faith in our Book of Confessions created by the Westminster Assembly in the 1640's at Westminster Abbey in London, succinctly defines what the Holy Bible is for the church and Christians. Scriptures, inspired by God, are "the rule of faith and life." (The Book of Confessions, 6.002, p. 122) If the scriptures are to be such, then we must read and study the Bible both individually and corporately. For this reason, in our worship services as Presbyterians, we focus on the scriptures as the center of worship and the foundation of the sermon, which is itself the proclamation of the word of God. The thought of the sermon also being the word of God puts a little of the fear of God in me each week to interpret the scripture faithfully for our church. I lean heavily on the Holy Spirit working her magic. The centrality of the word of God is key to our Christian lives so that we can live out our faith each week. Through our worship with the word of God at its center, we are empowered to live faithfully as disciples of Jesus Christ week by week. Now, I know each week you may not be inspired by either the scriptures read or the sermon preached; however, I also believe that God takes what to me and you may be the most feeble of sermons and uses it to speak to specific people with listening ears to hear that Sunday. For as long as I have been preaching Sunday in and Sunday out, I have had to trust that is what God does.

So, looking forward to October's worship services, the scripture readings are going to be from 2 Timothy, Jeremiah, and Luke. The first Sunday is Worldwide Communion Sunday on which 2 Timothy 1:1-14 will be our focus, as we are reminded to guard the good treasure of faith passed on to us by our mothers and grandmothers in the faith. Then, the Reverend Ellen Hill will be preaching from the prophet Jeremiah and Luke's gospel on October 9. Two of the last three Sundays will take us back into Luke to talk about prayer with the parable of the persistent widow and an unjust judge (Luke 18:1-8) and also the story of the arrogant Pharisee and the humble tax collector in the synagogue (Luke 18:9-14). On Reformation Sunday the month will end with guest preacher Steve Young, who is the Executive Director of Living Waters for the World. That will be followed by our fifth Sunday Potluck Lunch and a chance to hear more about the work of Living Waters for the World from Madagascar to Cuba to Guatemala. For another month, I pray that the Word of God continues to transform, challenge, and strengthen all of us.

May the peace and joy of our Lord be with you,

Jim

Presbyterian Women's Circle

will begin meeting at 10:00am!

We will continue to meet on the second Tuesday of each month at the church unless announced otherwise. This schedule will begin Tuesday, October 11, 2022.

Currently we have only one Circle group but if there are those who would like to meet at night, please call the church office and let us know. If there are enough folks that wish to continue having a night meeting, we will do so.

Be looking for other PW activities that are coming this Fall as we enjoy the fellowship with the women in our congregation. Circle is not the only activity in which you can become involved.
